The Internal Dissensions in the Governments of France, Prussia, Spain and West Virginia—The Green Corn Dance Over Coming Victories—Death of the Adjutant General Bill—A Pointed Resolution—Senator Jacob Denies that we one any Part of the Virginia Debt—The Sentence of a Murderer for Life.

OHARLESTON, Nov. 20th, 1873.
[special Ogrespondence of the Intelligence.]
The greatest Governments of the civilized world are now suffering from internal, dissensions. There are also two (2) powers besides "the power behind the throne," and after all the one behind the throne is the one that is to be most dread. CHARLESTON, Nov. 20th, 1873.

[Special Occrespondence of the Intelligencer.]

The greatest Governments of the civilized world are now suffering from internal idissensions. There are also two (2) powers besides "the power behind the thrope," and after all the one behind the thrope," and after all the one behind the thrope, and the one behind the thrope, and the one behind the thrope, and the set to be considered the one of the state of the State, create such debt.

Resolved, That the State of West Virginia of the Constitution of the State, create such debt.

Resolved, That the State of west Virginia of the Constitution of the State of Virginia, for which she may be found responsible, it is the opinion of the State of Virginia, for which will not be much the sufferer for the ordeal through which she has passed and is now passing. The settlement of the great question that now divides them may humiliste many of her best citizens, but it may be the silver wedge that will rive assunder the dogma that Church and State are one. Who knows but Prussia will give us the keynole of that song of religious liberty, for which millions have been solong peating, that will belt the globe in its strains of victory and praises.

victory and praises.

Poor, pititul little Spain is all split to Poor, pittial little Spain is all split to pieces by the dissensions of her own people. She has no less than three first class wars on her hands, and if you count the insult to our flag in the capture of the Virginitis, and the execution of her crew, a sufficient cause to bring out the "rams" of the United States, she will have added the felicity of a fourth. She is bleeding for the wrongs of the past. Justice, the strongest spoke in the wheel of life, bears heavy when it rolls across the breast of s strongest spoke in the wheel of life, bears heavy when it rolls across the breast of a country that has been stained with the blood of the just. Spain, is now a Republic. We sympathize with both the government and the people. They lack wisdom and discretion. The power behind the throne has been too indiscret. hidd the throne has been too indiscret. The buildogs of war are barking on every hand. Spain must suffer, perhaps the Republican world at large. We hope not. We have had too much war during the present century. The world wants peacerest. Let the United States chastise Spain, but not crush her. Hang the men who shot the crew of the Virginius, burn Sautiago de Cuba, annex the "Queen of the Antillea" to our Dominions, but say to Republican Spain live on.

lea" to our Dominions, but say to Repub-lican Spain live on.

The last body, and in their own estima-tion, not the least, which I shall mention in this connection is the rump Legislature of West Virginia. It is pretty badly shivered up by its own dissensions and corruptions. The power behind the throne has sunk the thing into the maeistrom of dissolution. The Consti-tution has been violated five several times, the State Treasury is bankrupt. tution has been violated five several times, the State Treasury is bankrupt, business is stagnated, taxes are doubled, we have no Code of Laws, and everything is in contusion and chaos. The Democratic party is dancing the "green corn dance" and are in high glee over the situation, while tomahawks and scalping knives are waived aloft over the prospects of Henry Walker for United States Senator, and thus reform that body with his august presence. Such is a brief reprospect of some of the powers of the earth, and some may add, "such is life," THE ADJUTANT GENERAL RILL was killed in the Senate yesterday. Strange to say, that only seven of the Honorable Senators saw the necessity of a making John Cole generalisation of the militis, while fourteen of them were inmaking solin color grant and are militis, while fourteen of them were inhuman enough to vote to indefinitely postpost the bill. This is downright treachery towards John. His salary as Librarian is about sufficient to half starve him, and had he been made head general of the political scalawags of the Democratic omnibus throughout the State, he could have managed to live like the other "heads of departments" in the State's employ. John is the heat fellow of all of them, and ought to be protected in his rights. The flag of his official aspirations has been insulted, and I would like to see them held to account for it. I would suggest that John declare himself State

General, and If necessary, call out the suggest that John declare himself State General, and if necessary, call out the militia to enforce his rights. It wounds my feelings when I think that there is now no hope for the title of General to be pinned on the name of the demagogues who had the triggers all fixed to make themselves Adjutant General of West Virginia. It might surprise you were I to tell you that no less than fifty Democratic "squirts" in and about the Legislature were each sure less than fifty Democratic "squirts" in and about the Legislature were each sure of being appointed to this highly honorary office. And yet it is every word true. This sledge hammer blow that killed the bill was, in my opinion, the proposition of Col. Spider, of Monongalia, to give a bond of $50,000 to perform all the duties required of the Adjutant General for $25 00 a year. This was a deadener over which they could not raily. It was thrown in their teeth on every hand, and to prevent the disgrace that would follow the creation of the office, under such circumstances, they indefinitely postponed it. And there it will rest till the day of resurrection.

A RESOLUTION WITH A "PINT" TO IT. A RESOLUTION WITH A "PINT" TO IT.

There is now in session in this city the General Presbyterian Synod of Virguia, in all, perhaps one hundred ministers. This fact, coupled with the warlike condition and attitude of the House of Deledition and attitude of the House of Dere-gates for the past few days, caused an idea to pop into the bald pate of Capt. J. M. Reynolds, who is by all odds the wittest man in the Legislature. He therefore drew up and introduced the following pre-ambles and resolution:

Whytersa There are shoulder hund-

HIGH GROUND ON THE VIRGINIA DEBT. Among honest men I have never heard the fact denied that we owed Virginia some portion, at least, of her $44,000,000 debt. It was contracted while we were a constituent part of the Old Domision, and although we derived no particular benefit from the expenditure of the money, still we were a party to the debt created, and cannot honorably get around paying our just and equitable proportion of it. I do not pretend to say what a fair proportion of the $44,000,000 is our part, but I do say squarely and emphatically that if we act honorably and fairly with our mother, we Among honest men I have never heard will pay several millions of her debt. I do not, however, Indorse the conduct of the authorities of Virginia in saying what our proportion of the debt is, and issuing West Virginia bonds accordingly. This is unjust and unfair. The matter should be amicably settled by Commissioners appointed, for that purpose, and can never be adjusted in any other way. Senator Jacob, of your county, introduced the following preamble and resolutions on yesterday, which lie over under the rules:

the rules: Joint Resolution 36, declaring that the State of West Virginia has and can create no bonded debt.

WHERRAS, It is represented in the newspapers and otherwise that the bonds of the State of West Virginia are put upon the market at six cents on the dollar, greatly to her prejudice and injury, and that she is responsible for one-third of the debt of the State of West Virginia; therefore, the Virginia debt, for that would be dis-honest; and they are equally as fearful to commit the party to the payment of any portion of it. Here we have honesty against expediency. And I say thrice shame upon the party that will place its own success above justice and right. TWO MURDER CASES.

The Criminal Court of this county a few days since tried Sinclair Abbott for the murder of George Grass on Cabin Creek in this State in September 1861, of the murder of George Grass on Cabin Creek in this State in September 1861, and sentenced him to the penetentiary for life. The facts, as brought out in the trist, were briefly these. Grass and Abbott had a personal difficulty. One day soon after, Grass and his boys were out hauling wood, when they heard the crack of a rifle, and Grass fell. The boys saw that he was shot, and hauled him home. He diged as two days afterwards. No one knew who committed the crime, but it was always thought that Abbott was the man. It seems that the secret was kept in the breasts of those who knew anything about it until three weeks ago when one of the persons let it out that Abbott killed Grass. He was thereupon arrested, tried and convicted twelve years after he shed the blood of this fellow man. Abbott served four years in the U.S. army, and was pronounced a valiant soldier. His case elicited no little attention, it being one of the remarkable historical incidents of the great Kanawha Valley.

The other case is the trial of J. C. Arthur for the murder of Oalvin Armstring, which took place somewhere in this county last Fall. When it is com-

Arthur for the murder of Oalvin Armstrong, which took place somewhere in this county last Fall. When it is completed, I will give the points of interest in the case.

The weather is very cold. Senator Hall, of Wetzell, arrived on Monday for the first time this session. H. S. Walker is giving the Legislature an entertainment at his house that will last three nights.
